We are no lievers in the total decadence of feeling which has given to Engl and other Western nations their eminence in contempt for a lie or originator; and it is not, we think. reasonable to give some weight to consideration when the question of b in average Chinese and average E pean evidence comes to be decided. only result, it will be seen, obtain by those who seek to explain away difference between Chinese and E peans in this quality is, that the Chi standard is lower than that of t European fellow-residents. Like general rules, this of course has exceptions; and residents of most perience will be the readlest to ac that they have frequently met Chinamen whose word of honour would accept assoon as that of most E peans, and probably with a gre sense of security than many of the hig civilised members of Western natio lities. This, however, leads us to the means of appraising or testing ence. There are many small indicat which go to recommend or discred witness, -- points little enough, it may in themselves, but which, taken toget frequently turn the scale in favour of side or another in a somewhat ever balanced is ue. It is just nossible in this respect the average Chinese ness stands at a disadvantage with European compeer, because a Jury much more likely to understand motives or comprehend the spirit European witness than to fully preciate the scope and tone of a Ch man who gives evidence. Age this, bowever, must be placed the that a Chinese can seldom be found give disinterested evidence upon matter whatever-a fact which g colour by the further considerat before alluded to, that he is trou and bampered with a weakness as details which is apt to vitiate his en statement even though it should b the main true. These views may regarded as of too general a nature t of much assistance to those whose it is to sift such evidence; but they serve to explain in some measure many jurymen of times feel when are engaged in the important task wh residence here frequently imposes u them. Things interpretorial are certain now in a much more flourishing healthy state than they were in for vears; and the disadvantages w previously obtained, of gathering even general import of what a Chinese with meant to convey, have been remove The responsibility, however, of carefu weighing the statements conveyed Chinese evidence still devolves upon jurors in nearly all important matte and if the above remarks should in

Further details were brought to hand by Her Majesty's schooner Beagle which arrived at Cooktown July 30th. The murder was a most deliberate and unprovoked act, and the Sandfly and Beagle, by directions of Mr Romilly, Deputy Commissioner for the Pacific, took immediate steps to obtain redress. The jungle of the island was too think for white men but with the assistance of some friendly natives three of the murderers were captured and afterwards A fourth, who is supposed to have been the principal offender, made escape. The Beagle also reported her return to Cooktown, the cruel murder of Mr Kleinsmith, the naturalist, and his two assistants. Mrs Kleinsmith is believed to have met a similar or worse fate. Mr Kleinsmith spent a few months in Hongkong about a year and half ago and made many friends in this community by his genial manners, his great experience gained and immunerable adventures met with in his travels in out-of the-way places providing him with an inexhaustible fund of interesting reminiscenses. THE new Governor of Fu-kien has commenced a crusade against that intolerable nuisance in all Chinese cities, the organised beggars. The patient long-suffering by respectable shop-keepers of the effrontery of these lazy thieves is one of the many things incomprehensible to the European It is not too much to say that the right of a beggar to stand whining and threatening at the door of a Chinese shop until extorts a cash or two from the harassoc proprietor as a bribe to go away, is actually recognised, and as there are no proper policemen in any Chinese city, the beggar always gets his own way. The Governor of Fu-kien, in ordering the arrest and severe punishment of all persistent offenders in future, takes a step in the right direction but it is only a half-measure, after all. The Tao-t'ai of Shanghai some years ago evinced much misplaced charity in providing beggars with night-refuges, and threatening all sorts of pains and penalties to those who lay sprawling about in public places; but as was pointed out at the time, it would have been far more to the purpose had he compelled the beggars to work for their rice, and made the very profession of mendicancy penal. It is so in Japan; in Tokio there is not a beggar to be seen, for should one show his face in public he would be instantly arrested by the police. They have their weaknesses, too, these young colonies; they are a little rash about running into debt, they are incurably protectionist, and they carry the admiration of English rank to the length of an absurdity. But these are the wild oats of political youth. It will be different a generation or two hence, when this island has become what it must sooner or later become—the historical centre of a race that numbers its hundreds of millions, speaking our language, reading our books, develop- Sessions. ing our traditions as new modes of life demand, and looking back upon this country with the affectionate regard that the Greek colonist in Sicily or Thrace looked back of old upon the mother-city. As time goes on, and as Greater Britain becomes greater still, it is inevitable that the political tie which binds its parts to each other and to us will grow weaker; but if we are wise, if we take care to live politically and individually up to our best lights, the tie of feeling and of interest will become stronger and stronger."

THE electric telegraph, wherever it has been introduced in Eastern lands, has not been held in favour by the higher and the lower classes. The first are too firm in their conservatism, and the gains that it brings them to welcome its introduction and the second are too much the creatures of prejudice and ignorance to allow of its being introduced without a murmur, and forcible disapprobation. In China, case of the Soochow line of telegraph. This line of telegraph does not appear to progress at a remarkable degree of speed, for the peasants in certain districts have commenced obstructive tactics with regard to its construction, and other country people have placed impediments in the way of the workmen employed. We learn that from Soochow to Changehow, all the agriculturists of the adjacent country have forcibly protested against the poles being set up, as they consider that such an act is one against Fengshui and that it is likely to lead to spiritual complications and trouble. They have pulled up and destroyed many of the poles that have been erected in that district. The district magistrate, hearing of these acts, reported the matter to his superior. and troops have been accordingly despatched by the Futai to protect the line. It is quite possible that the work of laying down the telegraph will have to be undertaken under the eye of the military; but it is to be hoped that popular prejudice will speedily b overcome with regard to the telegraph which will prove of the utmost utility to China .-

THE INFERNAL MACHINES. "Atlas" in the World writes :-

I have seen and handled one of the me notorious infernal machines, and a very ugly machine it is. Its aspect is not un like that of a square coffee-canister or a ti of preserved meat. The case is of som preparation of zine hammered. Until the lid is removed the devilish thing seems innocent as any article from a grocer's or oilman's shop. Even on a closer inspection the machine might be taken for a roughlyfashioned clock, for these American affairs are nothing wonderful in the way of workmanship. They have been made evidently by contract, and have none of the nicety and finish of Thomassen's, which exploded at Bremerhaven. All the works are in full view at the top : the dynamite or nitro-lignine material is hidden below in several cylinders. A very simple contrivance has been adopted to explode the charge at a given time. A flat disc slowly | (Taken at Mesers Falconer & Co.'s Premises. revolves by the action of the cleckwork until a slot in the disc comes opposite a lever or handle in connection with it. The slot releases the lever: the latter in its turn release a spring, and a small hammer falls upon the detonating cap-after which the nious product of the nineteenth century was, what I should have done with it had I discovered it under my chair, duly charged and wound up. I am not more of a coward than my neighbours, perhaps, and yet the idea made me shudder. I felt that could do justice to the gallant man who gains the V.C. for throwing a live shell overboard. But a little coolness, after all, is what is necessary. To remove the detonating cap would be the work of a second or two; and little more would be needed to pass a knife-blade into the clock-work and stop the whole machine. There are many, however, who would still prefer absence of body to any such presence of

The gospel of dynamite progresses bravely. A packet of that destructive material was found on Saturday at Hullside Steel The steamer Pasig has been overhauled in Works, near Glasgow, between two furnaces, in quantity sufficient to blow up the whole of the works. I understand the assassins of Germany have graciously assured the present Emperor by letter that his life will not again be attempted, in consideration of his advanced age and the good he has done in his lifetime: but no such exemption is extended to the Crown Prince on his accession, while the Emperor of Russia and the Czarina and her children are still under

It was fortunate that the pontoon grounded there, for the damage which resulted is not serious; but had it drifted further up, the probability would have been that it would have run into the Yuen Ful opium ship, or fouled some other vessel, and very serious consequences night have followed, as the flood tide was running up very strong. THE CHINA REVIEW.

THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishmodified in certain details.

-THE CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter. The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance.

The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelego and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Por-tuguese, are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a resume in each number of the contents of the most recent attention is also paid to the Review department. Notes and Replies are classified together as "Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which though asking for information, furnish new or unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August, 1875, is at hand. It says that forty-two cosays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review. It is a sixty paged, bi-monthly, repertory of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is alone worth the price of the Review. Address China Review. Hongkong,—Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.)

Tribner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review :- " This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot as in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, the extinction of which useful serial a year or two ago has been much regretted in Europe as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. In paper on Dr. Legge's She King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of bonour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connexion with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Beview may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine.

THE CHINESE MAIL.

This paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents lucluding postage to Coast ports.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.

The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan,from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese, — consider themselves piculs, per Day. justified in guaranteeing an ultimate circulation of between 3,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of tion-conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in toneis almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners.
